

WE'RE LOOKING FOR A WELLNESS AMBASSADOR IN LATVIA

Hey student! Could you be one of the very first regional Stebby Wellness Ambassadors to promote a healthy lifestyle at the local level? If you're enthusiastic, want flexible work alongside your studies, and are interested in results-driven tasks – keep reading!

Who are we looking for?

- Someone who knows the Latvian business environment, entrepreneurs and decision-makers; and speaks both Latvian and English.
- A creative individual who can represent and promote Stebby's healthy values.
- Someone who already has or is willing to build connections with company and organization leaders responsible for employee well-being.

What will you be doing?

- Reaching out to and meeting with local companies to find opportunities for implementing Stebby.
- Introducing the benefits of Stebby.
- Building and maintaining local client relationships.

What does Stebby offer?

- Performance-based compensation – work on your own time and terms.
- The opportunity to become a full-time Stebby representative in the future.
- No need to worry about training – we'll prepare you for every situation.

If you think you could be the one to bring together businesses and wellness in Latvia, apply for a wellness ambassador HERE.

Stebby is the largest wellness platform in the Baltics, offering thousands of health services and health insurance solutions to both companies and individual users. Over 200,000 people and 2,000 companies have joined the platform.